STORY OF A RICE GRAIN

Once there was an alluring village which kept people
mesmerized with its
eye catchy sunsets,
burbling water over
rocks, chirping birds
and lush fields...

There was a beautiful river in that village and that is the source of my life. Yes, I'm a paddy grain who is going to share my life cycle with you.

This was the place
where my journey
started. A hard working farmer
spent his several days of energy and
sweat to make me
stand tall like this.

Yeah this is me.
I am the
narrator of this story who took 3 months to reach my full
growth.

The reapers
started
harvesting
me.....

This was the old
man who sowed
and took care of me
in all ups and downs.

He reaped me at the right time and
made me dry
under hot sun.

Then a helper
winnowed and
cleaned me

Next, another helper packed me in a cloth bag and took me to a rice mill in order to remove the husk from rice.

After all these hectic procedures and months of hard work I have become so
shiny and useful to
the people around
me.

It takes 3 months for me to become useful. Just like me, you have 300 precious days in FWSA to groom your talents and skills. I know the path towards success is hard and filled with hurdles like mine. But if you make use of this golden opportunity in the rightest way you can also shine like me.
